If only the face of deaf-blindness in America was this recognizable.

Then you would see us.

But you do see us, every day.

We are your grandparents and children;
we are your students and veterans;
we are your friends and neighbors.

We are your fellow Americans, and we are changing the way you see deaf-blindness.
